

Dear Readers,

With the publication of Volume 02, Issue 02 (2025), the Design Dialogue Journal continues its commitment to fostering critical, interdisciplinary dialogue across the fields of design, architecture, technology, sustainability, and education. Building upon the foundations established in our previous issues, this volume further reinforces the journal's mission to serve as a platform for innovative research and reflective practice.

The contributions featured in this issue address contemporary challenges and emerging perspectives that shape the built environment and design thinking today. The authors engage with diverse themes, ranging from theoretical inquiries to applied research, offering insights that respond to current societal, technological, and environmental transformations. Together, these works highlight the importance of cross-disciplinary collaboration and the evolving role of design in addressing complex global contexts.

We are particularly pleased to see the growing diversity of voices and methodologies represented in this issue, reflecting the expanding reach of the Design Dialogue Journal within the international academic community. Each manuscript published in this volume has undergone a rigorous double-blind peer-review process, ensuring scholarly quality and integrity.

As the journal continues to develop, we remain dedicated to advancing open access knowledge, supporting emerging scholars, and strengthening connections between research and practice. We extend our sincere gratitude to the authors for their valuable contributions, to the reviewers for their careful and constructive evaluations, and to the editorial and support teams for their continued efforts.

We hope that Volume 02, Issue 02 will inspire meaningful discussion, further research, and creative exploration among our readers.

Warm regards,
Assoc. Prof. Dr. Pooya Lotfabadi
